

CONVENTIONS OPEN TODAY IN CHICAGO

NO INDICATIONS THAT LEADERS HAVE FOUND COMMON GROUND FOR UNITY

Three Days of Almost Constant Conferences Fail to Bring Republicans and Progressives to an Agreement on a Man for President—Every- thing Indicates Parties Are Still Far Apart.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Republican and the Progressive National conventions both assembled tomorrow without any indications that the leaders have found the common ground on which they hoped to establish unity. Three days of almost constant conferences have failed to bring the Republicans and Progressives to an agreement on a man for the presidential nomination. A half dozen names, any one of which is acceptable to the Republicans have been rejected by the Progressives who have proposed practically no name but Colonel Roosevelt.

No Evidence of Agreement

The conventions assembled without an outward evidence of the possibility of agreement. Tonight everything indicated that they are far apart. Not since the party was born, has there been such a lack of cohesive leadership among the Republicans and the oldest convention observers declare they never have seen such a general lack of enthusiasm.

There never has been a convention for which so little had been arranged before hand. They plunge into their work with practically everything undone which hitherto has been done for them in the inner councils of the leaders.

Progressives Fight for T. R.

Progressive leaders, unwilling to say if they could, whether the colonel would support the justice, continued to carry on their fight for Mr. Roosevelt as their first choice. Today George B. Cortelyou, a former member of the Roosevelt cabinet arrived here and joined William Loeb Jr., and George Von L. Meyer, both former members of the colonel's official family to compromise a Roosevelt steering committee within the Republican convention itself.

The Republican managers, pressed by the Progressives to hurry their nominations and disclose their candidate if they hope to bid for Colonel Roosevelt's support, at present a progressive ticket from taking the field have been given notice by Senator Smoot that they can expect no nomination in the Republican convention before Friday. Senator Penrose, addressing the Pennsylvania Republican state delegation today declared that nominations for president will not be made until late on Saturday. The most that can be said about developments of the day is that there has been a general tightening in the various organizations in preparation for the test of strength now so near.

Supporters of Hughes have been counting noses. Speaking for them Senator Frank H. Hitchcock estimated the justice would receive about three hundred votes on the first ballot. He said reports had been most encouraging and predicted that the Hughes vote would grow rapidly after the preliminary ballot.

Florida Decides for Hughes

Florida decided during the day to cast her solid vote for Hughes and to stay with him to the end. A poll of Kansas is reported to give nine votes for Hughes. From New Jersey Hughes managers expect to get at least 17 votes, the Rhode Island delegation of ten is reported solid for Hughes and substantial gains were claimed in Connecticut and other states.

If a ballot could be taken tonight the consensus of the several political managers indicated that it would be about as follows:

Hughes	261.
Weeks	160.
Roosevelt	93.
Cummins	81.
Fairbanks	80.
Burton	79.
Sherman	58.
Knox	51.
Root	42.
LaFollette	28.
Scatterling	54.

This excludes two delegates from the district of Columbia who were unelected by the national committee will take their case before the credentials committee. (The allies generally conceded that Mr. Hughes was in the lead but the fact that he occupies this advantageous position is not allowed to stand in the way of their efforts to hold their forces in hand. Their plan is to represent an early stamped to the Hughes in the hope that some new development.

Much speculation has been indulged in with regard to the effect of a positive pronouncement from Mr. Roosevelt. No one counts upon anything from him, favorable to Justice Hughes but the day rather was characterized by expectation of a declaration contrary to that interest.

Many believe that such an expression would be fatal to Justice Hughes' nomination because, they say, it would mean certain defeat at the polls.

May Not Delay Nomination.

The Progressive leaders are not hiding the fact that they are embarrassed by a lack of control over their delegates and they fear that they cannot delay a nomination in their convention until after the Republicans have acted. They have capitalized the situation, however, to the extent of using it as an argument with the Republican managers for an early nomination in the Coliseum. They have told the Republicans that they fully realize the uncontrollable qualities among the Roosevelt enthusiasts which, they fear, will result in the quick nomination of the Colonel, with the possibility of disrupting plans for an agreement.

The former element, composed largely of business men, are inclined to continue the efforts to bring about an affiliation with the Republicans. The other element demands the acceptance of Colonel Roosevelt as the only basis of compromise. They go so far as to say Roosevelt should endorse the candidacy of such a man as Justice Hughes, the Progressives would proceed with their convention and nominate, not Colonel Roosevelt, but some other leader, for instance Governor Hiram Johnson or Gifford Pinchot.

The varying counsels thus indicated have been urged upon the former president by his followers and it is surmised that they have had much influence in causing him to remain silent. During the evening the word was circulated that Colonel Roosevelt had manifested a disposition to follow the advice of the Progressives at any cost and the general opinion was that nothing would be heard from Oyster Bay favorable to any Republican aspiring to the nomination. The uncontrollable quality of the Progressive convention lies in the fact that in point of numbers it is a third again as large as the Republican convention. Many Progressive delegates, unschooled or averse to the ways of parliamentary practice and political management, and are intent on voting for Colonel Roosevelt and no one else. In some cases they are openly disapproving the dealings of the Progressive leaders with the Republican managers in their efforts to make peace.

Split Strength Into Half Votes.

In order to bring large delegations to the convention, the Progressive strength has in many cases been split into half votes, making double the number of delegates to be controlled from a single state.

At one of the conferences today, Senator Smoot served notice on George W. Perkins to expect nothing but the usual procedure in the Republican convention, beginning with the assembly tomorrow at which Senator Harding, the temporary chairman, will deliver the keynote speech, state delegations will report and an adjustment will be taken to give the committees an opportunity to get down to work. As a matter of fact, while these routine proceedings in the Republican convention are going on, the proceedings at the same time in the Progressive convention will disclose how far the Roosevelt leaders are being pressed for an immediate nomination of the colonel.

The keynote speech at the Progressive convention is expected by many to be tantamount to placing Colonel Roosevelt in nomination. Many expect a tremendous demonstration there threatening to sweep aside all attempts at delay. How far this view prevails is illustrated by the fact that Gifford Pinchot, Victor Mordock, Henry J. Allen, and other Progressives at a conference agreed that nothing short of a demand for delay from Colonel Roosevelt himself should stand in the way of his immediate nomination.

Initial the negotiations for harmony between the Republican and Progressive parties. Senator Borah would not discuss the conversation beyond saying that he and the colonel had exchanged views and that he was better satisfied with the situation than he had been before he talked with Oyster Bay. When it became known there had been a telephone conference it was reported one senator told the colonel that he believed Hughes should be nominated early by the Republicans and that he hoped such a program would be satisfactory. This report was repeated to Senator Borah who declared that it was not a true representation of what had taken place.

"I can't tell you what occurred," said the senator. "I wish I could, but it is impossible."

The telephone conference took place shortly after a meeting late tonight between Senator Borah and George W. Perkins.

As the result of that conference the senator expressed the opinion that the Republican convention should now proceed to make a nomination in an orderly manner and select the candidate who could gather a majority of the delegates after balloting in the customary manner.

"What we must do now," he said, "is to proceed just as we would have done had there not been a third party. The traditions of our historical party demand it. Harmony is to be desired, but we cannot be expected to descend to bartering our dignity and independence."

"I believe that ultimately we will have harmony. If we go ahead and name the candidate that our free delegates think is best fitted to carry the burden of the campaign, peace will come. We will make a good platform; one with which no fault can be found by any faction of the party and we will draw to our support many voters who left us four years ago."

Senator Borah is numbered among the leaders willing to accept any Republican who can win the nomination in a test of strength displayed in the customary way. He says that at the moment Justice Hughes is leading and present indications point to his nomination. With Hughes as the nominee and with a progressive platform, the senator said he thought Progressive Republicans would flock to the Republican banner. He even thought the Progressives might later withdraw their third ticket, if they put one in the field, should the attitude of the nominee of the Republican party satisfy their demands respecting campaign issues.

A few hours after Mr. Borah's remarks on the situation had been made, Mr. Perkins emerged from a conference with Senator Lodge, smilingly declaring that the outlook for harmony between the two conventions was brighter.

BORAH HAS TELEPHONE CONFERENCE WITH T. R.

DISCUSS EFFORTS TO BRING ABOUT HARMONY IN CONVENTIONS

Senator Asserts he is Better Satisfied With Situation than Before He Talked With Oyster Bay—Believes Peace Will Come.

Chicago, June 6.—Senator Borah and Colonel Roosevelt talked over the long distance telephone tonight respecting efforts to bring about harmony between the Republican and Progressive parties. Senator Borah would not discuss the conversation beyond saying that he and the colonel had exchanged views and that he was better satisfied with the situation than he had been before he talked with Oyster Bay. When it became known there had been a telephone conference it was reported one senator told the colonel that he believed Hughes should be nominated early by the Republicans and that he hoped such a program would be satisfactory. Simultaneously it was announced that the Progressive plan to print full page advertisements thruout the country in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt had been abandoned. None of the Progressives who were in the conference would discuss details nor say what led to the abandonment of the advertising program.

"On the eve of the two conventions," Mr. Perkins said, "it is my judgment that they are going to start off with friendly relations which argue well for a favorable result."

The proposal to form official conference committees in the two conventions, for the purpose of discussion of the Republican and Progressive agreement probably will be taken up in the conventions soon, Mr. Perkins declared.

Rumors that Colonel Roosevelt had advised his supporters that he would not make a race on the Progressive ticket alone, were denied emphatically by Mr. Perkins.

"Just say there is no truth in that report either pro or con," Mr. Perkins declared.

Mr. Perkins has been in frequent communication with Colonel Roosevelt by telephone today he said.

ILLINOIS DRUGGISTS OPEN CONVENTION IN SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6.—One hundred and fifty druggists were here at the opening of the Illinois Pharmaceutical association. Sessions which will continue through tomorrow are being held in the arsenal.

In his annual address, President J. H. Reimenschneider of Chicago urged that action be taken which might induce the postmaster general to issue an order permitting the sending through the mails of poison drugs. New officers will be elected tomorrow afternoon.

THREE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

St. Louis, June 6.—Three men were killed and three were hurt as a result of an explosion today at the plant of the United States Incandescent Lamp company. Two of the dead were R. W. Ferguson, general manager of the company, and Stanley Norgalski, vice-president of the LaCie Iron Works.

War News Summarized

From the Tripoli southward to the Rumanian frontier the Russians, according to Petrograd, are continuing to develop successes against the Germans and Austrians.

In the fights along this front of some 25 miles, the Russians already have made prisoners of 480 officers and more than 25,000 men and captured 27 guns and more than 50 machine guns.

In this offensive, which is declared to be a carefully co-ordinated movement the Russians are said to have a plentiful supply of ammunition and men and with the roads now in good condition their maneuvers are expected to develop swiftly. The number of the Teutonic allies facing the Russians is reported to amount to about 600,000 men.

Since the repulse of two German infantry attacks between Fort Vaux and Damloup Monday night the fighting in the Verdun region has again developed into artillery duels with the Fort Vaux, Damloup sector the center of the greatest violence. No materials gains for either side are reported.

The Austrians are still being held from further advances, and with heavy losses, by the Italians, according to Rome. In the Valdarra, and Pasubio sectors and on the front between the Posina and Astico rivers, vicious Austrian attacks have been put down and the Italians have even gained some ground against the Austrians on the western slopes of Monte Cengio.

The Turks in Asia Minor, near Baburt and Insugan, have again attempted an offensive against the Russians, but Petrograd says their efforts failed. A successful raid has been made by the Russians against the Turks in the vicinity of Khadik, near the Persian border, northeast of Bagdad.

FUNSTON HEARS DE LA ROSA INTENDS TO ATTACK BORDER

Gen. Mann Reports That He is Taking Such Measures as Possible to Strengthen Patrol Toward the East and to Guard Laredo.

San Antonio, June 6.—General Funston announced today that he had what appeared to be positive information that Luis de la Rosa was marching from a point south of Laredo in the direction of the border, with the evident intention of raiding the country somewhere west of Rio Grande City.

General William A. Mann, commanding the American forces in that district with headquarters at Laredo, has reported to General Funston that he is taking such measures as possible to strengthen the patrol towards the east and to guard Laredo. To the east of Laredo, in Zapata county, across whose southern boundary de la Rosa is expected to move the American strength is only troop of cavalry. At just what point on the border line the Mexicans intend to strike was not learned and it was not announced just how far away they were today, but they are said to be comparatively near.

If de la Rosa reaches the Rio Grande before the Americans can head him off, a strong force will be sent against him.

CONVENTION LACKS OUTWARD ENTHUSIASM AND DEMONSTRATION

Veterans Agree They Have Never Attended a Convention Where So Much Was Going on and So Little Evidence of It Apparent.

Chicago, June 6.—Aside from the great political game that is being played here, the most experienced observers agree that the outstanding feature of the convention period is the almost total lack of outward enthusiasm and demonstration.

The convention veterans agree they never have attended a convention where so much was going on and so little evidence of it apparent.

There is no doubt that the crowd is going to be great, incoming delegations and sight-seers have swelled it into the tens of thousands, but the lack of parading bands, glee clubs, volunteer orators and the turbulent demonstrations which usually make a national convention is rather puzzling to the convention veterans. The orators who always have sprang up on every corner are missing. The man with a megaphone who always has been numerous is very scarce. The first seen was from Oregon and he was shouting for Justice Hughes. The organized Roosevelt demonstration directed from the Florentine room in the Congress Hotel began in earnest today, and it was the first sign of organized convention "roosting."

They invaded the hotel lobbies shouting for "Teddy."

FIFTEEN THOUSAND CHILDREN PARADE

Newark, N. J., June 6.—There will be 15,000 children in today's parade and pageant. The grown-ups will have no part in the spectacle, which is a feature of Newark's celebration of the city's 25th birthday.

Mrs. M. E. Hay and Miss Lulu Hay will leave this afternoon for Bay View, Mich., to spend the summer at their cottage there.

EARL KITCHENER IS LOST AT SEA

British War Secretary Goes Down With Cruiser Hampshire

LOSS SADDENS ENGLISH

Kitchener's Death is Most Stunning Blow England Has Received Since War Began

WAR COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

LONDON, June 6.—The news that Earl Kitchener, secretary of state for war, and his staff who were proceeding to Russia aboard the cruiser Hampshire, were lost off the Orkney islands, last night, was the most stunning blow Great Britain has received since the war began.

Kitchener was the one outstanding personality whom the people talked of and believed in as a great man, notwithstanding newspaper attacks, which at a former period of the war threatened to undermine his popularity and the public confidence in him.

Jellicoe Telegraphs Report.

A telegram from Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, commander of the fleet, giving the bare facts, was received at the admiralty about 11 o'clock in the morning. The first official announcement was issued at about 1:30 in the afternoon. Such news, however, cannot be kept entirely secret, even for an hour. Before noon rumors were spreading about and the telephones in the newspaper offices were busy with inquirers anxious to know if this one of the many reports circulating in these days of tension—had any foundation. They were told there was nothing in it.

When the announcement finally was issued, the fact spread about London some time before the newspapers could get into the streets.

There was a crowd about the stock exchange which required police reserves to deal with. The police told everyone to move on; that there was no truth in the reports.

At the same time, another mass of people was assembling about the government offices in Whitehall. That confirmed the rumor beyond doubt. Other crowds gathered around the newspaper offices, when the boys came out with an armful of extras, the people fell on them and fought for the papers. In the course of the afternoon the flags on all buildings were flown at half staff.

People Saddened by Loss.

The English undoubtedly are a stoic people and have taken the good and bad tidings of the war as they came with an absence of emotion surprising to outsiders. But no one could have walked the streets today without perceiving that something which the common people took as a calamity had befallen them. The foreign office was saddened by the loss of one of its most valued members, Hugh James O'Brien; while Sir Frederick Donaldson and Brigadier General Ellershaw of the ministry of munitions were known to be men whom the nation could little afford to lose.

The fact that the cruiser Hampshire with between 200 and 300 men had sunk was generally accepted simply as an unfortunate detail in these days, when a thousand men go under in almost an incident of warfare and the Canadians' battle ships a scant column in the newspapers.

The king came from Windsor and sent for Premier Asquith when he heard the news. The war council held a long session. Naturally, speculations regarding Kitchener's successor began immediately. Among those discussed were David Lloyd-George, Lord Derby and the chief of the Imperial staff, Sir William Robertson. But whether a military man or civilian will take the war office has not yet been decided.

Earl Kitchener met death at a moment which will insure his position in British history. He was almost the only member of the government who from the beginning confidently asserted that this would be a long war—his lowest estimate was three years—and he insisted that the government should make its plans accordingly.

Army Organization Well Under Way

The organization of the enormous new British army is well under way. The general staff under General Sir William Robertson's direction, according to the general belief, has well in hand the task of working out the details which Kitchener's brain was largely instrumental in planning and launching.

There is no evidence to show whether the Hampshire was torpedoed.

DEATH LISTS FROM STORM GROW HOURLY

NUMBER OF PERSONS ARE UNAC- COUNTED FOR--SOME WILL DIE.

Fifty-Seven Casualties are Reported From Arkansas—Scarcely a County Escapes Path of Twisters—Estimates of Property Damage not Available.

Kansas City, Mo., June 6.—Death lists in the storm swept section of Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi and Illinois grew hourly tonight as belated reports were received from communities which suffered in a series of tornadoes Monday night and early today. Late tonight the deaths of 107 persons had been reported, a number of other persons were unaccounted for and some will die. Accurate estimates of property damage were not available but all figures ventured by property owners in the stricken communities ran into the hundreds of thousands. Incomplete tabulations showed the following deaths:

Arkansas	57
Missouri	30
Mississippi	15
Illinois	1
Tennessee	4

With a score missing, the overturning of the Mississippi Packet Elmore.

The casualties in Arkansas were from every section. Scarcely a county escaped the path of twisters which traversed the entire state. Jackson and Vicksburg suffered from the storm in Mississippi. Many of the casualties to Arkansas and Mississippi were negroes. In Missouri, the Poplar Bluff section was well high devastated. McClure reported the single death in Illinois.

Report 76 Dead in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., June 6.—Seventy-six persons were killed in Arkansas in Monday's storms, when a series of tornadoes swept across the state from end to end. As wire communication was established late tonight with sections which had been isolated for the past twenty-four hours it was revealed that 57 white persons and 19 negroes had been killed, while four other persons are missing and believed dead.

The death list at Judsonia, a town of 800 people forty miles northeast of Little Rock, has been definitely fixed at nine. All were negroes. Three white persons are badly injured and may die.

Additional casualty lists were reported tonight from Forest City, near where three white persons and a negro were killed and about 40 negroes were injured, from Stuttgart, six killed and 30 injured, from Ozark, with one death and the report that two more are believed to have been killed and from Fordyce, where the list of dead in Dallas county was increased to five.

It is impossible to estimate the property loss. From every place that suffered, however, come reports that buildings were swept away by the dozens.

Thirty Killed Near Poplar Bluff.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., June 6.—Thirty or more persons were killed and at least 75 were injured in a storm that swept this section today. The damage to crops and buildings is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The dead at Stoddard: Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, S. M. Gaines, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vaughn, Doctor Connor.

The dead at Morehouse: Mrs. Jessie Nelson, Mrs. W. A. Whiteacre, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Price and child.

The dead at Bernie: Bud Bond.

The storm first passed thru' Oxley, where several barns and light buildings were torn from their foundations. At Stoddard however, the storm had gained in intensity and in addition to those killed, three persons were injured so seriously they are expected to die.

William Simpson and wife of Poplar Bluff, who were killed, had passed the night at Stoddard after attending the funeral of Mr. Simpson's mother there Monday. A daughter of Mrs. Edward Fields was hurled 200 feet but was uninjured.

Two men injured at Sikeston, probably will die. They were struck by flying timbers.

Bud Bond of Bernie was killed by lightning while asleep. His wife was injured.

Owing to crippled wire service the names of many reported dead in the rural districts could not be obtained tonight. The storm was general and it is expected here that later reports will show still heavier loss of life.

Fifteen Dead in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss., June 6.—Fifteen persons, ten of them negroes, were killed, more than 75 injured and property damage estimated at $500,000 was the toll of the tornado, which whirled thru' central Mississippi early today. Twelve of those killed lost their lives when the storm swept a path 100 yards wide thru' the residence section of Jackson, demolishing or damaging more than 250 houses. Two of the dead here were white persons, Mrs. Anna Jelks, an aged woman and Walter DeWotte, a youth.

OLD GUARD NEEDS NERVE TONIC-BLYTHE

States Some Fear That Machine May Possibly Break Down

T. R. OBSESSES THEM

Get Nervous Chill Every Time They Get Thought That Roose- velt May Be Nominated

SEE PROTECTION IN HUGHES

(By Samuel G. Blythe)
(Copyright 1916 by Central Press Association.)

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—Large amounts of money have been spent, are being spent and will be spent in Chicago for all sorts of outward and visible political signs of inward and cherished political hopes, and most of these expenditures are and will be useless so far as results are concerned.

One Essential Thing Lacking

Banners, hats, flags, badges, headquarters, press agents, literature, drinks and those other commodities that, as custom assures us, go to impress the impressive mind of a citizen and delegate that they honor thus—and so is the people's choice for president—have been paid for in liberal, even prodigal supply, but one essential is lacking that will go further towards making this convention what it was planned to be by the gentlemen who planned it and built it, a quantity should be laid in and administered in large doses.

I refer to nerve tonic. There are various of the old guard architects and constructors of this convention, various but not all, who fall into a nervous chill every time they get the thought that possibly the machine may break down and Roosevelt secure the nomination. There are various of them who have hourly panics over that dread contingency. They suffer with apprehension, they sweat with terror, they are as scared as an elephant over a mouse, as a rich man over the loss of his fortune, as a negro at a ghost. They are very scared.

They haven't the courage of their own construction nor the pluck of their own pluckings. They tremble and they have begun to trim. Nerve tonic is needed, for, after spending three years of effort and political maneuver to make this convention what it is today they are in great trepidation for fear it isn't what they made it at all, but something entirely different.

Roosevelt hangs over them, impends on them, obsesses them. They say, valiantly, that he cannot be nominated and some of them are so terrified they are beginning to think the only way they can prevent that catastrophe is by hurrying up and nominating Hughes.

See Protection in Hughes

There is none of them, of course, who wants to nominate Hughes, to whom the thought is not abhorrent, but the third ones are all quivering over the mere intimation of such a contingency and they see in Hughes their protection against this ogre of Oyster Bay.

That is why, barring the shouters in the lobbies, the Hughes movement continues. Now, ask you, Hughes is not now and never will be the real choice of the men who assume the control of this convention. They may take him but they do not want him. They have other plans. I have outlined these plans in my previous dispatches and briefly, they are to kill off both Hughes and Roosevelt and name a man of known congeniality and compliance.

Most of the delegates are here now and the round-up shows that while the machine is completed according to specifications, the thing remaining to be proved is whether the specifications are right or wrong.

Popping right into the middle of this plan of campaign there comes

For President.

For Governor.

ANDREW RUSSEL.

One German Democrat has written a letter to Colonel Roosevelt praising his firm stand on hyphen citizens of the United States. Just what thousands of German-Americans think on this question has not been made public.

Sherman Murdock, of the Progressive committee, says he is opposed to "fine and feeble phrases or overripe rhetoric at the White House." That is just the reason that Mr. Murdock and his associates are not going to insist beyond the danger point that their wishes shall dominate the Republican convention.

One of the public favorite pastimes in recent years has been legislating against and attacking railroads. The fact is often overlooked that, after all, the public must bear the expense whether the railroads prosper or not, and that it takes vast sums of money to keep a railroad system in successful operation. The Illinois Central statement recently made public shows that system has spent in the last five years for improvements and betterments $59,000,000.

Indians are Paid

It's a false charge that Indians do not get a fair deal in this country, which they yielded to the white man. Recent statistics show that Indians are increasing in numbers in the United States and just the other day a judgment was rendered against the government by the court of claims in favor of the Mille Lac band of Chippewa Indians of Minnesota. This claim was for land and timber taken by government homesteaders and the state of Minnesota. The claim and interest brought the amount up to $711,828, and the government must pay.

Sherman's Friends Busy and Loyal

The papers are not carrying a great deal of convention news matter about Senator Sherman, as the front pages are given over largely to Hughes and Roosevelt. This fact is not a cause for discouragement but rather augurs well for the Illinois senator. If the feeling between the Roosevelt and the Hughes advocates becomes too tense, then is when some third candidate can successfully come in. The Sherman organization committee in Chicago includes some seasoned political workers, and they have organization plans well in hand. Medill McCormick, one of the controlling factors of the Chicago Tribune, is a member of that committee, and when the right time comes he will probably be able to give the Sherman cause valiant aid.

The plans are well under way for

THE GRAYBEARDS.

We relics of bygone days insist that old things were sublime, that modern things are punk; but our old domes are full of bats, and we are talking thru our hats, and all we say is bunk.

The lovely dames come down the street togged out in raiment slick and neat, and we look on and sigh: "The modern fashions," we declaim, "are nothing but a burning shame as they shock the purist's eye. They make the tired spectator ache; and how the womenfolk can make themselves a holy show, is something that we can't explain; oh, for the fashions safe and sane, of forty years ago!" We make such statements free and bold, but if you take an album old, and view the women there, with gowns that look like circus tents, and shawls that look like twenty cents, and nets upon their hair, you'll say, "Those girls were surely shrieks!" The world was overrun with freaks when those tinsies were made; if any woman should appear in such Event Held Monday Evening in the world make a raid!"

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

June 7, 1778—The parish of Cahokia reported to the Seminary of Quebec that work had been begun on a church which was to cost 15,000 or 16,000 livres. This church is still standing.

a monster Sherman demonstration Friday, when a special train will be run from Springfield and Sherman workers from every congressional district will be on hand. The days for stampeding a convention may be past, but it will be a mighty good thing to let the leaders of the big convention know just how enthusiastic Illinoisans are for the senator.

Wilson to Rule in St. Louis

Preparations for the Chicago convention were in strong contrast to those of the Democratic convention in St. Louis. President Wilson fixed the chairman for the convention, named the head of the resolutions committee and is credited with having directed most of the other important details. So it can be safely stated that his further directions will be carried out and that Secretary McAdoo will succeed William F. McCombs as chairman of the national committee. The announcement of the chairmanship change will be made quietly, but that will not cover up the bitter feeling nor the fact that a first class row is on in the Democratic national committee. Glad news this for the Republican managers.

Minister Denounced Veterans

In these days when patriotism is rife and much stress is properly being laid upon the debt the people of the present day owe to the soldiers of the Civil War, it is strange that a minister can be found who denounces the veterans and decries the observance of Memorial day. Such an incident recently happened at Loraine, this state. A young minister declared that it was a disgrace that the graves of Civil war veterans should be strewn with flowers and that all who participated in the Civil war were actuated more by the desire for plunder than anything else. The minister extended his theories to the present day and called the United States soldiers in Mexico barbarians and murderers. The address aroused so much sentiment that the young minister was compelled to leave his charge the day after the address.

The Old Guard

The Old Guard—one sometimes wonders if there is just as much strength in this invisible political organization as the political writers would have us think. The Old Guard emerged from the 1912 convention so battered and wounded that a skeptic finds reason for doubting if these long time political leaders have the same hold that was true four years ago. As one reads the newspaper stories it does not appear that the 1912 delegates who will constitute the convention will move about as the mere puppets of scheming political leaders. In fact, it seems that at the 1916 convention most anything may happen and if the Old Guard had such a strangle hold, certainly the evidences of that hold would be more apparent, even to the uninitiated.

The ruling thought of convention delegates and party leaders generally is that the candidate—whichever he may be—must represent the united wishes of the party. It is that thought—that knowledge—that is having its effect upon the delegates. They are boosting for their individual preferences but in the newspaper stories one can read between the lines that the dominant influence is the desire for unity of action. What is best for the whole party, what is best for the whole people, does not that promise to be the dominant note of the convention, rather than the dominant note of Old Guard control?

Pleasant Reflections

It's a big load off one's mind to know that his storage battery is working right. Our expert service is an assurance of good starting and lighting.

Use Care in Starting

Free inspection of any battery at any time

Most all of us have gone along the street at some time or other, and heard a motor churn and churn under the power of an electric starter without any apparent results.

This is one of the most frequent causes of storage battery trouble according to a service representative of the Willard Storage Battery Co. He explained that very few motorists seemed to realize the immense amount of electrical power which is required to turn a motor, and what a considerable amount of driving at charging speed is necessary to restore same amount of current to the battery.

A little care in operating the self-starter will obviate this trouble. The driver should always make sure that the starting switch is thrown before attempting to operate the self-starter. Sometimes the gasoline tank is empty and under such conditions no amount of cranking would start the motor.

The ignition button should always be pressed in firmly and all wire connections should be tight. Occasionally the gasoline mixture is too weak and on most cars this can be adjusted from the dash. The coil and distributor should be kept perfectly dry in order for the current to reach the spark plugs.

We have as complete a workshop and a force of as good mechanics as will be found in this section of the state. No job too large or too small but what it can be handled and done in the right way.

A complete vulcanizing plant, brazing and welding a specialty. Lamp bulbs for any car, horns, hydrometers and a complete line of accessories.

the Progressive situation. The cooler heads of the Progressives, the practical men, want to mark time with their convention which begins tomorrow, and await the outcome of the Republican convention to see whether that outcome is their peerless leader T. Roosevelt, or some person acceptable to the Roosevelt, which narrows the possible outcome exceedingly.

Unfortunately for the nerves of the old guard of the Republicans, the convention builders, there are some heads in this Progressive convention that are not cool, but are as incandescent as the sun. These torrid-topped patriots hold it as their fervent and unalterable opinion that the thing to do is to rush into convention Wednesday noon, listen to a prayer, sing "Onward Christian Soldiers," nominate Roosevelt their standard bearer and adjourn sine die about twenty minutes past twelve with loud shouts of "There, gaudiest you, what do you think of that?"

Would Open Old Sores.

It is reasonably well known what would be thought of it and what is thought of it in an anterior sense by the cool-headed contingent of the Progressives, which includes that eminent Progressive, Colonel Roosevelt himself. The old guard of the Republicans and the new guard of the Progressives would consider that a calamity, nothing else, because it would emphasize the split, open all the old sores, and make the re-election of Mr. Wilson a certainty because that very sanction, the Republican managers say, would force the nomination of some other by the Republican convention. They are bending every energy to prevent this and some of their energies bend rather easily, but they are afraid, everybody is afraid, the Republicans afraid the Progressives will name Roosevelt and the cool-headed Progressives afraid they will, too.

The hot-headed Progressives are afraid they won't and the rank and file of the Republicans are afraid of Wilson unless they can get an absolutely united party. It is a grand saturnalia of fear and it is a well known psychological fact that no mind, not even the political mind which is practically aseptic and therefore slow to receive impressions, functions logically under the stress of any strong emotion, especially fear.

Wherefore there should be a large supply of nerve tonic laid in and administered, otherwise the thing may result in a panic. It is quite possible that under this impulse of terror that timorous bunch of old guard gentlemen will rush headlong into the nomination of Hughes, because they think, and are tortured by the thought, that if they do not hurry and get it over with the crafty colonel may put something over on them and grab the nomination away from them which they have so carefully planned to secure for one of their own sort.

There was a good deal of this sort of talk this afternoon. The speech made by Mr. Justice Hughes in Washington yesterday was discussed in all its details and many things read into it which were not in it, and many things read out of it which were in it. The general opinion among the anti-Hughes people was that the justice had rather stolen a march on them, albeit they felt that it might have been more to his general reputation that he made the speech to a deaf-and-dumb institute instead of to a girls' school. They expected the justice to remain wrapped in his mantle of impenetrable silence and to have him come out and give three cheers for the flag, even if only before girls, was held to be almost a breach of implied good faith. However, it was generally set down as a judicial as well as a judicious notification that Mr. Hughes is not without knowledge of what is going on in Chicago and that the proceedings thus far concerning himself have his extremely decorous approval.

No Deviation in Program

Meantime, aside from the timorous tones, there has been no deviation in program among the old guard. If the courageous contingent can quiet the frightened ones the determination to defeat Roosevelt and Hughes will be put into vote along in the latter part of this week. The certainty that Roosevelt can be defeated is a conviction. The statement that Hughes can be defeated is an assumption based on past performance. The old guard know what they have done with conventions back yonder and they feel confident they can do the same sort of thing with this convention, especially as the assault on their plans must come largely from the outside and the defense is inside.

A few of them have picked the balls of their thumbs and signed a declaration with the resulting blood, to the broad, general effect that come what may, they will not quit until they have to, and if they don't have to, they will nominate neither Roosevelt nor Hughes.

If they have to quit fifty percent they will grudgingly nominate Hughes. Rather than go a full hundred percent and nominate Roosevelt, they swear and subscribe to it in their life's incarnadined fluid, which is more precious to them than anything save getting back on the payroll, that they will nominate Wilson, or do some other direful thing.

It is all very interesting, but most inconclusive, and yesterday was the most conclusive day of all thus far, for it rained most conclusively and the consequence was that the patriots assembled had more time for strategy and dopesters more time for dope than if they had been able to move about in the air. There is no change in the desire of the Republican leaders, there is no change in their determination.

Meantime Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio will make the keynote speech tomorrow at the convention. Great interest is manifest over both the key and the note and the keynote.

doed by a submarine or struck at mine. Many ships have been passing between Russia and Great Britain over the same route since the Port of Archangel was opened.

The official news was a greater surprise than it would otherwise have been because no one knew that Earl Kitchener had left England. A memorial service will be held in St. Paul's.

MUCH RAIN FELL

The rainfall of Tuesday was recorded as 1.48 inch, by George H. Hall, U. S. weather observer at Alexander. Beginning with gentle rain before 9 o'clock Monday evening, the storm increased in intensity and during the morning hours Tuesday there was considerable wind. The rain did not cease entirely until after nightfall.

HORSE SHOW POSTPONED

The annual horse show, which was to have been held today at Ashland, has been postponed until Wednesday, June 14, on account of adverse weather conditions.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD FIRST DEMONSTRATION OF CONVENTION

Speakers Insist on Roosevelt as Candidate Whom the Republicans Should Accept.

Chicago, June 6.—The first of the Progressive demonstrations which are planned for every afternoon during the convention period was held today in the same room in the same hotel in which the Progressive party was born four years ago.

Victor Murdock presided and speeches insisting on Colonel Roosevelt as the candidate whom the Republicans should accept were made by Governor Hiram Johnson of California, John M. Parker of Louisiana, Henry Allen, Kansas, James R. Garfield, Ohio, and Mr. Murdock. Many members of the National Republican league, who had been using the room before the Progressives, remained in their chairs throughout the Progressive meeting.

"I'll not deny; there is a split in the Progressive party," said Mr. Allen. "Some of the delegates want to nominate Colonel Roosevelt the first thing tomorrow morning."

At this there were cheers, followed by comparative silence when the speaker said he was opposed to being precipitate. The applause, with laughter revived when he continued:

"I think we ought to wait until after we choose a chairman, anyway."

Governor Johnson asserted that the Republicans have accepted the issue of Americanism, they must accept the maker of the issue. Mr. Murdock and Mr. Garfield earnestly advised the Roosevelt boomers to get out and work among the Republican delegates.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD NATIONAL PRE-CONVENTION CONFERENCE

Chairman Murdock Feels Sure Nominations Will Not Be Reached Until Friday.

Chicago, June 6.—A final pre-convention conference of Progressive national committee, state chairmen and delegation chairmen was held tonight. Chairman Murdock of the national committee and many of the leaders made speeches urging that no nominations be made by the convention until Friday. Enthusiastic applause was given Chairman Murdock and the conferees left confident that precipitate action in the convention could be prevented.

Chairman Murdock said, after the conference, that after tomorrow's preliminaries, he was sure the platform would be considered most of Thursday and nominations not reached until Friday.

It was also decided to postpone opening of tomorrow's session from 11 o'clock until noon.

George W. Perkins reiterated his opinion that the Progressives would not nominate a candidate until there had been time for full conference in accordance with the declaration of the Progressive national committee last January. "We said last January," declared Mr. Perkins, speaking for the Progressive national committee, "that we would have a proper exchange of views with Republican leaders before we attempted to nominate a candidate. Simple courtesy requires us to give opportunity for an exchange of views before a nomination is attempted."

TI THOUSAND DELEGATES REGISTER FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6.—More than 1,900 delegates were registered here today for the fifty-eighth annual convention of the Illinois Sunday School association which opened its first session this morning.

Among the speakers today were Prof. George L. Emerson of McCormick Theological Seminary at Chicago, Marion Lawrence of Chicago, secretary of the International Sunday school association; Dr. S. E. Kirkbride, secretary of the American bible association and Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction.

Officers will be elected tomorrow and the convention will adjourn Thursday night.

YUAN SHI KAI, PRESIDENT OF CHINESE REPUBLIC, DIES

PEKING, June 6.—Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Chinese republic, died today. Premier Tuan Chi-Jui immediately advised Li Yuan Hung, the vice president of his succession to the presidency.

Yuan Shi Kai had been ill for several days with stomach trouble, which was followed by a nervous breakdown. Quiet prevails in the capital. The death of the president apparently solves the heated political crisis. Li Yuan Hung's succession to the presidency meets the demands of the leaders in the southern provinces.

JULIA SANDERSON WEDS

New York, June 6.—Julia Sanderson, musical comedy star, will be married today to Lieut. Bradford Barnette of the United States hydrographic bureau. Miss Sanderson completed her engagement in "Sybil" last week, and says she will not give up the stage. The groom is the son of the late Admiral W. G. Barnette, U. S. N. He was prominent in athletics at the naval academy, and is doing important government work along the coast. Miss Sanderson's previous matrimonial venture was with Tod Sloan, from whom she was divorced in 1913.

mony between the two sides, the Republican managers consider that their position has been strengthened by the fact that all along they have been ready to present for discussion a list of candidates, any of whom could command the support of the others. This fact admittedly has been embarrassing to the Progressives, who found themselves laid open to the charge of refusing to consider any other name than Colonel Roosevelt's. To offset this condition the name of Senator LaFollette was brought forward. The Republicans immediately rejected it and charged the Progressives with insincerity in presenting the name of a candidate they were unwilling to accept themselves.

At that point the Progressive managers turned their tables and demanded that the Republicans bring forward a name. The Republicans responded by suggesting former Senator Burton of Ohio, arguing that he could unite the support of all the favorite sons, draw strength from the pacific element and had incurred no enemies among the foreign-born voters. The objections of the Progressive managers to Mr. Burton were voiced by Governor Johnson of California.

NAME THOMPSON NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN OVER WEST

Election Ends Bitter Factional Fight in Republican Ranks Which Has Been in Progress for Several Months.

Chicago, Ill., June 6.—Mayor Thompson was chosen national committeeman over Roy O. West by a vote of 38 to 17. The election of Thompson brought to a close a bitter factional fight in the Republican ranks which has been in progress for several months. West received a majority in the recent direct primary vote for the office and is the present committeeman. Thompson was backed by Senator L. Y. Sherman and Frank O. Lowden, Republican candidate for governor while West received the support of the faction headed by former Governor Charles S. Denen.

Thompson was placed in nomination by Fred W. Upham of Chicago.

The caucus selected Congressman William A. Rodenberg of East St. Louis chairman of the delegation; Congressman Martin B. Madden of Chicago member of the committee on resolutions, David E. Shanahan, member of the committee on credentials, Charles S. Denen, member of the committee on permanent organization, Roy O. West member of the committee on rules and order of business, Walter Rosenfeld of Rock Island member of committee nominee for president, O. F. Berry member of committee to notify nominee for vice-president.

Fred W. Upham of Chicago was selected as a vice-president of the convention.

MALONE ROUNDLY SCOLDS MEMBERS OF CONGRESSIONAL SUFFRAGE UNION

CHICAGO, June 6.—Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, roundly scolded members of the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage at tonight's session of the woman's party convention for what he termed "hypocritical criticism of big men in public life."

The session was set aside for speeches by representatives of all of the political parties who were invited to tell why they merited the support of enfranchised women. Daniel Poling had spoken for the Prohibition party; Allen Benson for the Socialist party; former Governor Chase S. Osborn, of Michigan and John Hays Hammond for the Republican party when Mr. Malone began his address. He referred to mean "criticism" of the president that appeared in newspapers in the last two days as coming from the congressional union and told the women who filled the Blackstone Theater that they were taking the wrong method to obtain suffrage legislation from the administration.

"President Wilson is not impelled by a spirit of meanness," he said.

ROOSEVELT DENIES AUTHORIZING PROGRESSIVES TO NOMINATE HIM

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 6.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt denied positively tonight that he had telephoned to Progressive leaders at Chicago authorizing them to nominate him for the presidency at the convention of that party if the Republican nominated Justice Hughes.

"I haven't sent any such message at all," Colonel Roosevelt said emphatically. He said he had nothing whatever to say in regard to the political situation and he declined to comment on the speech of Justice Hughes at Washington last night.

COMMISSION APPROVES SALE OF CHICAGO AUTOMATIC TELEPHONES

CHICAGO, June 6.—An order approving the sale of the Automatic Telephone property of the Chicago Tunnel company, to the Chicago Telephone company and the American Telephone & Telegraph company was entered today by the Illinois Public Utilities commission.

The independent companies which reached Chicago through the Automatic are, by the order, to receive the same facilities they now have, and the same service is to be maintained by the purchasers.

The commission leaves the question of physical connection and proper charges for service up to the companies.

DUPONT POWDER OFFICERS AN- WER STOCKHOLDERS' SUITS.

Wilmington, Del., June 6.—Pierre S. du Pont, president of the du Pont Powder company, and other officials of the concern, will answer today to a suit brought in the United States district court by minority stockholders, in which the claim is made that stockholders were "defrauded" of several hundred thousand dollars during the recent reorganization and enlargement of the big powder firm.

The charges have been denied by President du Pont, who claims that McNelly & Co., the Philadelphia manufacturers who entered the suit, own, but thirty shares, and were interested only in a sum that could not compensate them for the costs of the suit. It was further claimed in a statement made to the press by the powder official that the suit is not genuine; either inspired by some motive not in the bill, or the complainants are mere figureheads, acting for "some one who finds it convenient to keep under cover."

Coincident to the filing of the suit here, another suit was filed in the federal court in Trenton, in the name of a woman stockholder, seeking to turn back the New Jersey branch of the du Pont company to the original stockholders.

The reorganization of the du Pont concern has occasioned much strife, even in the du Pont family. The present action by the minority stockholders is similar to an action brought by a Pennsylvania du Pont against President du Pont and eleven directors of the company. At that time, the accusation was made that these officers had violated their positions of trust.

POSITION IN HAVANA

Roscoe Linder, for the past three years instructor in German in the Arenzville high school, has received appointment as instructor in science and public speaking in Havana high school.

RETURNS INDICATE DEFEAT OF IOWA SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Virtually Complete Returns from All But Five Counties Give Antis a Majority of Nearly 6,000.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 6.—Defeat of the state constitutional amendment providing for woman suffrage was indicated tonight by virtually complete returns from all but five counties in the state, giving the antis a majority of nearly 6,000 over the advocates of "votes for women."

The exact figures were 144,966 against suffrage 139,253 in favor of the amendment, a majority for the antis of 5,713 votes. It was thought that the returns from the five missing counties would cut down the anti-suffrage majority to approximately 5,000 votes. According to figures compiled here, more than 390,000 votes were cast in the election, the heaviest primary vote in this state in years.

In the race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, W. L. Harding of Sioux City was expected on the final count to poll between 40 and 50 per cent of the total vote, more than enough to obtain his nomination without referring the fight to the Republican convention.

Attorney General Cosson was second in the race, ten thousand votes ahead of Senator Joseph Allen, the third contestant. Kuehnle of Denison was a bad fourth, more than 20,000 votes behind the leader and 80,000 votes behind Allen.

In the race for the state office, aside from the governorship, it seemed likely that the following would be nominated:

Lieutenant Governor—E. R. Moore.
Secretary of State—W. S. Allen.
State Treasurer—W. C. Brown.

Other state officers still were in doubt.

PRESIDENT LAUDS BISHOP CRANSTON

GREAT HONOR PAID TO CHURCH-
MAN AT CAPITAL

Large Number of Prominent Methodists Gathered at Banquet in Honor of Retiring Bishop Who Formerly Lived in Jacksonville—Secretary Daniels One of the Speakers.

Dr. T. J. Pitner has received a copy of a Washington paper which gives an extended notice of a banquet given in Washington in honor of Bishop Earl Cranston, who is retiring senior bishop of the Methodist church. The occasion was made especially notable by the presence of President Wilson, who made a brief address of tribute to Bishop Cranston. Another speaker was secretary Daniels.

Bishop Cranston holds a very warm place in the hearts of many Jacksonville people who remember him as pastor of Grace church. During the after years, when he was advanced to the highest honor in the gift of the church, Bishop Cranston never forgot his Jacksonville friends and he has been an occasional visitor since that time and during a comparatively recent session of the M. E. conference here was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Pitner. The article from the Washington paper is in part as follows:

"When Bishop Cranston arose to respond to the addresses of those who had preceded him he was so deeply touched that his voice shook with emotion and the tears came into his eyes.

"You have made me feel more humble than I ever before felt in my life," said Bishop Cranston. "I am here tonight because of God's patience and love, and because His mercy endureth forever—and that is not can either.

"Will you please understand that I love you all; that I can't answer you?"

Then, referring to the fact that the President had been there and spoken highly of him, Bishop Cranston continued:

"Gratified to President Wilson, 'I want to thank the President of the United States for coming here tonight. Oh, isn't it strange that a man burdened with the cares of state and responsibilities should come here to this little group of Methodists and pay honor to one man? Not to come as the chief executive, but to come as a man and tell us the truth of the philosophy of life. What a transition from the executive office, to him who was here tonight.'

"The best thing that has happened to me is the best thing that can happen to any boy," he said at an earlier point in his address; "to be thrown in among good people, to be reared among good people, and to be surrounded by good people all their life."

President Wilson paid a beautiful tribute to Bishop Cranston, saying he was a man who called out only the good in his fellow-men, Rev. Whiteford L. McDowell, the presiding officer, said of the President, in introducing him: "He is loyal not only to the American flag, but also to Jesus Christ."

President Wilson said:

Description of a Spirit.

"I have been wondering how you have managed to differentiate Bishop Cranston from other bishops in describing his career and rendering the meed of praise which he has so richly earned. I suppose that the life of one bishop is very much like the life of another, and to describe the career of one as discriminating from that of another is very much like describing one human face as distinguished from other human faces, which is as difficult an exercise in the use of language as I know of. And as I have thought of that I realize that what you really must attempt to describe is not a career, but a spirit.

"In any given career, if it be the career in a well organized profession one man goes thru the same functions as another, but you do not retain the same impression of him. There is a distinctive note of individuality which he contributes, and which, if there be genuine force in him, nobody else could have contributed, and so you remember something that makes it very proper to speak, particularly in his profession, of the ghostly influences which have characterized him.

Spirit Speaks to Spirit.

"It is not, I take it, by accident that we speak of our ghostly advisers, not meaning that they are ghosts but that in their advice spirit speaks to spirit. And the things that are invisible are the things that are vital. So what we have assembled to celebrate tonight, it seems to me, is the spiritual influence of an individual coming like the fragrance of a flower out the way in which he has done ordinary things, out of the way in which he has performed accustomed functions.

"It is the particular tone and flavor of the men that we like, just as we can make friends with some people and we cannot make friends with others. Some men give me a creepy feeling the minute I am in the room with them, and with other men I feel like opening to them every thought that I have.

He Calls Out the Good.

"When a man like Bishop Cranston comes into the room, I feel like opening to him every handsome thought I have and concealing all the rest, because I have an instinctive feeling that that is the thing that would be acceptable to him.

"That is the test of the man—the kind of confidence you think he would elicit, the kind of story you think he would laugh at, the kind of principle that you believe he would approve. Those are the tests of men, and Bishop Cranston's contribution to the great church which he serves is the contribution which he has made in building up other spirits and making them in some sort and degree kin to his own spirit. It is this fine spiritual propagation which is the true lineage of the Christian church."

President Wilson was warmly applauded when he entered the hall and during the course of his address. He was given a "chautauqua salute" when he finished. He returned early from Annapolis yesterday, where he attended the Naval Academy graduation exercises, in order to pay tribute to the bishop.

Tribute by Secretary Daniels.

Secretary Daniels of the Navy was another speaker. He said, in part: "We hear a great deal these days about mobilization; the mobilization of industries and the like. The mobilization nearest and dearest to our hearts at present is the mobilization of Methodism. I am tired of geographical names in Methodism. There are no differences in creed, policy, faith and love.

"Bishop Cranston undoubtedly feels he has not done all the things he could have done. All great men feel that way. If they feel that they have accomplished all that they should have done, then they are not great men."

Bishop Cranston's name and personality are known all over the world, according to Bishop John L. Neulsen of Zurich, Switzerland.

"They know him everywhere," said Dr. Neulsen, after naming many countries of Europe, and even Asia, where he had heard the name of Bishop Cranston. "And they love him everywhere. He has impressed all with those fine traits of manhood with which he has impressed you.

"Tonight as I sat here and saw him and the President talking together I had a vision—I saw the one as the peacemaker for the warring nations; the other I saw as the unifier, not only of the Methodist Episcopal church, but of all the separated branches of the church of Jesus Christ."

May Devote Time to Unification.

Reference was made constantly during the evening to Bishop Cranston's new relation to the Methodist Episcopal Church, and to the fact that he will now be able to devote his energies to uniting the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

"No bishop stands in such relation to these churches today and tomorrow as Earl Cranston," said Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Philadelphia. "God in His providence has given us Bishop Cranston, that great loving leader, to make Methodism triumphant thru the coming centuries."

A telegram expressing regret that he and his wife could not be present, and paying honor to Bishop Cranston, was received from Bishop William F. McDowell of this city, and read by Rev. L. C. Clark.

Other speakers were Bishop John W. Hamilton of Boston, Franklin E. Hamilton of Pittsburgh and William A. Quayle of St. Louis.

What you are willing to give depends on how much you need and desire anything.

What a store is willing to offer you depends largely on how much that store needs and desires your patronage.

Our store is growing, but we have to grow. The first five years of its life, any store must grow. During those years it needs patronage—Wants it. To get it the newer store must offer more.

We know the furniture business. Have the goods and

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

Oakland, Cal.—Mrs. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, of Berkeley, who has distinguished herself as an educator and writer, is the new president of Miss college. She has done extensive lecturing throughout this state on English literature, and has a national reputation also as a scholar of distinction. After graduating from the University of California, she taught at Idaho, and later was a fellow in English at Yale. While there, she edited and translated one of Dante's principal works, which is now a college text-book. Later she held a European fellowship. While at Oxford, she edited and published Ben Johnson's "The Silent Woman."

Detroit.—An institute for the teachers of defective children was opened here today, under the state department of public instruction. This is the first time in the state that an institute of this kind has been held. Dr. Peter Roberts of New York, and Dr. H. H. Wheaton of the U. S. Bureau of Education will be the leading speakers. The problem of caring for the defective child in the schools is occupying the attention of educators everywhere, and much interest is being manifested in other states in the week's conference here.

Bowling Green, Ky.—Quite the smallest college class to be graduated this summer is that which Ogden college, of this city, will matriculate. There is one graduate in the class, and the youth having this distinction is Alexander M. Witherspoon. Owing to a change made in the courses of study a few years ago, this year's class dwindled to one. The exercises will be held on Thursday, making the 59th year of the college. Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodstock, bishop of Kentucky, will deliver the commencement address.

Miss Edna Ogle and Miss Bertha Mason were out soliciting for the festival at Grace Chapel last Monday.

Several from this neighborhood attended the I. O. O. F. services at Arcadia and report a very nice time and enjoyed the program. All extend their sincere thanks to Rev. W. E. Spoons and his daughter for their kindness in lending a helping hand to the good cause. Following is the program rendered:

SOME FARM THEMES.

A New Breed of Hogs
Did you ever see a Kentucky Red Berkshire hog? Did you hear of one? Well this breed has prevailed in several Kentucky counties for close on 100 years, says the editor of Farm and Home. In 1913 the breeders of the Red Berkshire organized the Kentucky Red Berkshire record association. At the Kentucky state fair the Red Berkshire has been recognized and shown and has been the cause of considerable interest and comment.

As with all breeds the origin of the Red Berkshire is lost in tradition. The oldest citizens say that way back before 1830, John W. Walker, Illinois Gibbs of Garrard county drove such hogs to the southern market. They would buy several hundred head locally and start with them for the seaports of North Carolina. These pigs at the start would be simply good growing porkers. They would be moved gradually over the trail, fed on corn purchased from farmers along the route and get to the southern market around Christmas time in good flesh and excellent killing condition.

The Red hogs, however, always have been very popular with Kentucky farmers and cattle feeders, and today the cattle feeders of Central Kentucky use them almost exclusively to follow their feeders.

In the early days they were simply known as Red hogs, at one time being called the Silver Creek Reds, later they were known as Red Berkshires, because they are essentially bacon type and are somewhat similar to the Berkshire of years ago. The Berkshire, of course, has changed type materially in recent years and the close similarity no longer exists.

These Red Berkshire breeders claim that their hogs have been kept pure for many generations. Their claim to purity is apparently sustained by the remarkable propensity of these animals when crossed on other breeds. Crossed on black hogs they invariably stamp their color and type on the offspring.

The Red Berkshire type resembles the Hampshire type more than any other. The color varies from a deep cherry red to a light yellow. White feet and white spots on the forehead are quite common. The head is of medium length, rather narrow, medium width between the eyes and the face is straight, even and regular. They are smooth, symmetrical, and have strong backs and feet and exceptional hams.

The general range of size is smaller than that of standard well-known breeds, altho weights of 500 to 700 pounds have been known. What they lack in scale they make up in vigor and thrift. They are excellent grazers and are extremely prolific.

Pushing the Young Stock

With 15 hours of comfortable hatching daylight, we see the necessity for frequent, satisfying feeding periods at this time. Don't leave the chickens crowded in their coops until a late breakfast at 7 or 8 o'clock, says M. C. Feint in Farm and Home. If you can't feed them by 5 a. m., better not shut them up, or else contrive some automatic device that will liberate them early.

If fed early, they will be just as hungry for another feed by 9 or 10 o'clock, and again at noon. And so on through the day. Five feeds a day are none too many, until they are well matured, in my experience. This frequent feedings is not a waste of expensive feeds. It goes rapidly into good bone and muscle and you get quicker and much better returns for the money than if the chickens are skimped along. Returns come first in the proceeds from the young males, who come on the market early, and are plump, desirable broilers.

Secondly, the pullets are ready for fall laying, and are sturdy, well-grown birds, whose constitutions will not easily develop roup, colds or digestive disorders. A third result of good feeding methods is the increased efficiency of your flock from year to year. The individuals increase in size, strength and disease-resisting qualities.

Segregate the young males early that they may not harass the others. If there are any late-hatched chicks give them the best chance of all.

Recalls Severe Hail Storm

H. C. Anderson, a well known resident of the Chapin neighborhood, was a visitor in Jacksonville Tuesday. Mr. Anderson commented on the fact that today will be the first anniversary of the great hail storm which did so much damage in the vicinity of Chapin and Concord in June, 1915, to growing crops. Wheat and oats suffered particularly and numerous cornfields were so much damaged that replanting was necessary. In other instances farmers used soy beans and cow peas in fields that it was impossible to replant with corn. Mr. Anderson says that continued rains have greatly delayed farm work and that still further rains will make the situation quite serious.

KANSAS CITY SCHOOL GIRLS
MAKE THEIR OWN DRESSES

Newspaper Article Tells About Good Work Done Under Direction of Miss Elizabeth Breckon of This City.

The Kansas City Star in a recent issue gives an illustrated article under the heading, "School Girls Make Their Own Dresses." This is the story of the department of home economics in the schools, which has been under the direction for four years past of Miss Elizabeth Breckon of this city. Miss Breckon's friends here will be greatly interested in the article, which is as follows:

Seventh grade girls over the city are putting the finishing touches on the dresses they have made at school this spring. And fourth graders are stitching the bands on their little white caps and pulling the red basting threads from the strings of the white aprons they expect to wear in cooking class next fall.

Last week the seventh grade girls of Bancroft and Normal schools wore to school the dresses they themselves had made. Their work last fall began with making underwear. Many of them took great pains with these simple slip-over night gowns and 2-piece princess slips, embroidering them with exquisite designs.

Most of the girls are beginning to value their personal appearance. Sewing in itself might be attractive to very few of them, but for the fact that the garments they make are for themselves.

"Neatness is the first thing I emphasize to my seventh grade girls," says Miss Elizabeth Breckon, who teaches cooking and sewing at the Bancroft schools, "but I can't help taking great pride in those who want to make their clothes dainty and pretty with hand embroidery."

Some Made Two Dresses.

Princess slips and night gowns were finished, however, early in the spring, and every girl has made a dress for herself, while a few have even found time for two dresses.

These are all school dresses, most of them gingham. At the Norman school pink is the favored color, and green and blue are next in popularity. At the Bancroft green is the color of more than half the frocks, and here the long waisted style is much in evidence.

"The girls choose their own patterns, and I try to keep them from getting those that are too intricate for beginners," is Miss Breckon's plan of management. "We use commercial patterns and try to be up-to-date without going to extremes."

"Of course, in selecting the style for each girl's dress, I have to consider a number of points. First, I want her to have a style that she herself likes. Next, I have to study each girl for the color and style which will look best on her. And last, I have to reckon on the experience each girl has had in sewing up to the time she starts her dress."

"Yes, they have all had the preliminary work, given in the fourth grade, but, besides that, many of them have sewed at home. One of my girls, and she is not of a poor family, either, told me that the little pink tissue she made in my class this spring was the third dress she had finished for herself."

"Sometimes those who have sewed outside of school have had habits in their needlework. But most of them take suggestions and pick out better ways of doing things in half the time that it takes those who don't care for sewing."

Anyway, the girls in Miss Breckon's classes have obliterated the "awkward age." Most of them have reached the "in-between" times, when their styles must not be too old nor too young. They want to look well, but are likely to try to dress as young women instead of ward school girls. Of the girls at Bancroft and Normal schools those who are wearing dresses they themselves made this spring have solved the problem of neatness, appropriateness and becomingness.

Costumes for Cooking Classes.

The girls of the fourth grade are finishing their white caps and aprons, which they will wear in the cooking classes of the fifth and sixth grades. They have also made pink or blue bags of gingham or linen for carrying their work to and from school. Fourth graders like the fancy stitches and embroidery that Miss Breckon teaches them after they have done the stitches required of them.

Sewing and cooking examination questions are made out by the supervisor, Miss Essie Margaret Heyle, and sent to all of the classes in the ward schools. Some of these appear to be simple, as compared with ten or fifteen long questions on arithmetic or grammar. But when it comes right down to giving an examination paper answer to these questions, probably few housewives could make an "E." Following are several of the sewing questions which the fourth and seventh graders had to answer in order to pass their grades:

"Give two reasons why needles should not be put in the mouth."

"Name two places where you would put a facing."

"Should a buttonhole be cut so the button will pull into the corner or side of the buttonhole? Why?"

"How would you mend a burned hole in an apron?"

"Why should one be careful not to use sized muslin?"

Miss Breckon has finished the work of the year and is to leave Kansas City Friday for Madison, Wisconsin, to be a member of a home party. She will visit also in Chicago and Danville before returning home about July 1st.

LITERBERRY.

There was quite an excitement on Broadway late Sunday afternoon. Warren Daniels and Wade Roach were driving a high stepping horse hitched to a top buggy; Rusty Decker was driving a broncho without a rig. The broncho went down in a fit of contrariness about the time he met the high stepper; this threw the high stepper out of step and he went down with the boys in an up to date style. No one was hurt but the buggy was badly wrecked.

A. S. Coleman of Chanderville, came down Sunday afternoon to give John Decker his finishing touch in his instructions in running his new car, an "Interstate." Mr. Coleman is a very clever young man and knows his business thoroly.

AT ALL STAGES OF LIFE

The Woman's Medicine. Good for All Ages. Mrs. Harold Smith's Experience.

Clarksburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine." — Mrs. HAROLD M. SMITH, 470 Water Street, Clarksburg, W. Va.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, and curing backache, nervousness, uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pains.

EXPANSION OF PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITY LIFTS STOCKS

Market's Course is Inconsistent—Ignores Disaster to British Military Administration.

New York, June 6.—Special stocks as well as representative issues were elevated again today on an expansion of professional activity. The market's course was altogether inconsistent however, in that it ignored the disaster to the British military administration at the outset and declined later on the favorable auguries conveyed in a number of increased dividends. Announcement of an early settlement of long standing differences among interests in mercantile marine proved of negative value to shipping shares, which were especially weak at the close.

The reversal of the later session was concurrent with an advance in call money to four per cent, the highest quotation in 18 months.

Motor stocks were less active and more irregular than yesterday. Sugar repeated their familiar performance of mounting to higher levels. Some of the better known war issues, like Crucible Steel and Baldwin Locomotive had their narrow flights and Bethlehem Steel gained six points. Norfolk and Western advanced its claim to leadership of the rails on a further advance of 2 1/2. Total sales of stocks amounted to 625,000 shares. Marine 4 1/2 imparts firmness to the general bond list on their advance to the new high quotation of 14 1/4. Total sales of bonds par value were $3,761,000.

United States registered 4s advanced 3/4, coupon 4s 1/2 and Panama 3 1/2 per cent on call.

FOREIGN BUYING OF FUTURES BRINGS RISE IN WHEAT PRICE

Market Closes Strong 2 to 2 1/2 Cents Net Higher—Corn Gains.

Chicago, June 6.—Wheat prices rose to a material extent today, chiefly as a result of foreign buying of futures here and because of bullish advices about domestic crop conditions. The market closed strong 2 to 2 1/2 @ 2 1/2 net higher, with July at $1.05 1/2 and Sept., at $1.07 1/2.

Corn gained 1c to 1 1/2c and oats 1/2c to 3/4c.

In provisions the outcome was a setback of 2 1/2 to 2 3/4c.

Opinions varied greatly as to the cause of the European purchase of wheat futures here. Theories that the disaster to Lord Kitchener had some bearing on the subject were not backed by any substantial evidence, and on the contrary were met by suggestions on the part of several trade authorities that his death if it had any effect on the wheat market, would most likely count on the side of the bears. One plausible explanation of the foreign buying of future deliveries was that stocks in Great Britain had not increased as fast as expected and that a lowering of freight rates on tramp steamers to England had been ordered with a view to stimulating export shipments from the United States.

Unfavorable weather was chiefly responsible for the strength of corn. Besides, shipping demand appeared to have improved and rural offerings were small. Oats were helped upward by a better call from the seaboard. The crop east of Chicago was said to be a fortnight or three weeks later than last year.

Lower prices on hogs weakened provisions. A break in the Liverpool market was also a bearish factor.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET.

Union Stock Yards, Chicago, June 6.—Oliver S. Green, with Walter Bros., reports the estimated receipts for Monday, June 6, 1916:

16,000 cattle.
40,000 hogs.
15,000 sheep.

The steer trade made a further price spread today. For choice to prime was 15 to 16c higher. Market steady to strong for medium to good. Weak market for yearlings not well fattened, and low grade beef steers. A liberal supply of such and they showed a new decline. Rank and file below 9 1/2 get indifferent action.

SOME REPUBLICAN POSSIBILITIES.

AS the time set for the Republican national convention draws near there is the liveliest speculation as to who will be the man picked to make the fight against Woodrow Wilson. While there may be some doubt as to the Republican nominee, it seems to be pretty well assured that President Wilson will be tendered a renomination when the Democratic delegates assemble at St. Louis.

The Republican delegates will convene in the Coliseum in Chicago on June 7. Already the hotels are preparing for a great crowd. Soon the booms of favorite sons will reach through the corridors. While there are some men who look to have a big lead in the race for the nomination, some of the wisecracks are saying this is the year for a dark horse. There never was a convention in which, a few hours before the delegates met, there wasn't some talk of a dark horse. That's all there was—talk. The dark horse seldom looms dangerous when the balloting begins.

But that this year the race is more open than in any convention in recent years is evidenced by the statement of Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the Republican national committee, who declared that the candidate "will be born in the convention."

The seating arrangement at the Coliseum will be much the same as it was four years ago, except that a thousand or more chairs are to be crowded in. The architect has blueprints showing that the seating capacity will be 12,500. Alphabetically some of the Republican possibilities are as follows:

WARREN G. HARDING

Borah, William E., of Idaho.
Brumbaugh, Martin G., of Pennsylvania.

Burton, Theodore E., of Ohio.
Cummins, Albert B., of Iowa.
Estabrook, Henry D., of New York.
Fairbanks, Charles W., of Indiana.
Hughes, Charles E., of New York.
La Follette, Robert M., of Wisconsin.
Mann, James K., of Illinois.
McCall, Samuel W., of Massachusetts.
Roosevelt, Theodore, of New York.
Root, Elihu, of New York.
Sherman, Lawrence Y., of Illinois.
Weeks, John W., of Massachusetts.

Roosevelt has been president and Fairbanks has been vice president. Hughes has been governor of New York and is associate justice of the supreme court. Mann is the leader of the Republican minority in the house of representatives. Brumbaugh and McCall are present governors of their states. Borah, Cummins, La Follette and Weeks are senators, and Fairbanks and Root have been so. McCall has had long experience in the house of representatives.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio will be temporary chairman of the convention.

Emerson Disc Cultivator

This is not an ordinary cultivator, but one with improvements that are far in advance of anything before shown on a tool. One very particular feature never before embodied in a disc cultivator is the point of draft as applied to the disc gang. The gangs are pivoted to the beam coupling between the first and second discs in such a way that the pivot is exactly at the center point of draft in all three discs. This makes the discs operate with greater ease and do better work.

The beams work independently. You can finish a row even if it only allows plowing one side, or one side can be run deeper if necessary.

Positive foot control, which does away entirely with a hand lever. The feet control the machine with ease, leaving the hands free to handle the team. Hard oil cups. Dust proof axle bearings. In fact, this is a cultivator that is built Right, sold Right, and one that is always Right.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE
ALUMNAE HAD DAY

SOCIETIES GAVE JOINT RECEPTION FOR VISITORS.

Association Report Shows Prosperous Condition—New Officers are Chosen—Program of Toasts Rich in Happy Sentiments—Many Former College Students Here.

Tuesday marked another busy day in commencement week at Illinois Woman's college. Tho the weather was anything but agreeable there was a large number of former students and alumnae present and the day was a most pleasant one in every particular. One of the events planned for the day was an automobile ride about the city which was postponed on account of the weather.

Out of Town Visitors.

In the main corridor was the registration book where alumnae registered. Among those from out of the city were: Mrs. Louisa Emery Brandenburg, St. Louis; Mrs. Josephine J. Stewart, San Jose, Ill.; and Mrs. Anna Borum Botkin, class of '72; Miss Nell Taylor, New Berlin; Mrs. Leda Ellsbury Bird, Kansas City, class of 1905; Miss Louise Facht, Mascoutah; Miss Hilda Hegener, Bluff Springs; Mrs. May Scott Van Winkle, Franklin, class of 1906; Mrs. Louise Humbert Gist, Cedar Falls, Iowa, class of 1875; Mrs. Georgia F. Johnson, Danville, class of 1912; Mrs. Sarah A. Meacham, Lyons, Kans., class of 1870; Mrs. Hester Gilliam Willard, Chapin, class of 1876; Mrs. Anna Stover Haywood, Pana, class of '91; Mrs. Mary R. Way, Vermont, class of 1875; Miss Irene Crum, Springfield and Miss Ferli Hess, New York City, class of 1915; Miss Lois Coulas, Winchester; Miss Celia Cathcart, Sidell; Miss Frances Freeman Hartwell, Marion, class of 1913; Mrs. Annette Reavick Lohman, Ashland; Miss Constance Loar, Bloomington, class of 1912; Mrs. Frances Blackburn Campbell, Tuscola, class of 1899; Mrs. Rachel Mink Dunham, New Salem, class of 1911; Miss Leta M. Irwin, Tuscola, class of 1914; Miss Amelia Demotte, Indianapolis, Ind., class of 1897; Miss Ann Jenkins, Battle Creek, Mich., class of 1911.

Societies in Joint Reception.

For the first time in the history of the societies the Belles Lettres and Phi Nu held a joint reception in the society halls. The doors between the society rooms were opened and the guests were entertained by the members of the societies. There was no formal program the hours being spent in conversation. Refreshments were served.

Alumnae Association Meeting.

The annual meeting of the alumnae association was held in the old Chapel. All of the members were assembled there and owing to the inclement weather it was decided not to go to Music hall where the meeting was scheduled to be held.

Owing to ill health Mrs. John N. Ward, who has been treasurer of the Alumnae Memorial scholarship fund since its inception in 1907 presented her resignation. It was with regret that the resignation was received for Mrs. Ward has been an indefatigable worker for the fund and in her care it has become of vast importance to the school. The fund was established by the Alumnae association in commemoration of the six presidents of the college. In the annual election of officers the following were chosen:

President—Mrs. Emily Allan Fay, '13.
First Vice President—Miss Nell Yates Taylor, '05.
Second vice president—Miss Anne Stevenson, '02.
Recorder—Miss Millicent Rowe, '11.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. Edgar Martin, '09.
General Secretary—Mrs. Belle Short Lambert, '73.

Alumnae Dinner.

The big event of the day was the alumnae dinner which was served in the dining room beginning at 6 o'clock. A splendid menu was enjoyed after which Mrs. Anna Hobbs Woodcock was introduced as toastmistress. Mrs. Woodcock proved a most capable toastmistress and was very happy in her introduction of the various speakers.

The program was called the Game of Life. It was divided into five parts. "The Game" as it is played in life was the subject of Mrs. Grace Ward Calhoun. "The Players" was assigned to Miss Amy Mothershead. "The Ball" was Mrs. Mary Stover Haywood's topic. "The Goals" was divided into three parts. Miss Millicent Rowe talked of Art, Miss Deane Obermeyer of Music and Mrs. Lillian Hurlburt Gist of Science and Classics. All of the speakers handled their themes in an admirable manner. "The Umpire," who summed up the subjects was assigned to Dr. Joseph R. Harker. He brought to his hearers the thought that faith in God and belief in His works are most essential to anyone who hopes to play the Game of Life successfully. At the close of the program Mrs. Grace Wood Jess of Springfield gave a solo. Mrs. Jess is always heard with pleasure by Jacksonville audiences and her reception was most cordial.

Some Stunts by the Students.

Last but not least of a pleasurable day were the "stunts" given by the students in the old chapel hall; following the alumnae dinner. The entertainment was given under the direction of Miss Helen DeWitte, president of the Students association. Among the "stunts" was a skit entitled "Before and After." The object of this stunt was to show old alumnae and visitors the difference between the conduct of students before the organization of the students association and afterward.

It was shown in pantomime the way the girls used to have midnight lunches in their rooms and do other things contrary to the rules of the school. Then the "After" part was shown how good the girls are under present conditions. No midnight lunches, no lights burning after hours, in fact the audience left with the firm conviction that the students in this day are regular angels.

Another stunt was a day in the editors office of the College Greetings, the school paper. In this was shown the girls at work on the paper, reporters and editors and the scene looked like a real newspaper office.

The "Stunt" advertising the College annual Illiwooc was also unique the name of the annual being spelled out by girls with the letters of the word. The efforts of the girls were received with applause and the entertainment closed a successful day in the history of the school.

150,000 TO ATTEND WORLD'S GREATEST MOTOR SPEED EVENT

Forty-One Drivers Try Out for 300-Mile Race at Speedway Park, Chicago—Oldfield Does Mile in Half a Minute—DePalma Sends Big Mercedes After the American Speedway Hour Record.

Chicago, June 6.—With the Republican national convention in session and the city thronged with thousands of visitors and reservations made for more thousands who have arranged to attend the second international auto derby, Speedway Park, it is expected that between 100,000 and 150,000 motor mad fans will see the greatest automobile speed event ever staged. The general offices at 201 Marquette Bldg., The Speedway Park Ass'n., have taken care of 45,000 reservation already. Out of forty-one drivers and cars entered—the greatest number ever nominated for a big race—the thirty-two fastest are being chosen for the start Saturday, June 10, at 1:30 p. m., when it is expected that all records for the distance will be shattered on this, the world's fastest two-mile track. The elimination trials start Tuesday and end Thursday. In addition to such drivers as Resta, Oldfield, DePalma, O'Donnell, Alley, Mulford, Ira Vail, Billy Chandler and others who sent in their entries early, the Indianapolis drivers including Pete Henderson, Eddie Rickenbacher, and Harvey Wilcox and the famous British aviator, Josef Christiaens, with two sunbeams, have joined the stars who will go after the $30,000 in prize money offered by the Speedway Park Association. The last ones in were the Klein Specials. That the race will be run off without a hitch is assured with the selection of Clifford Ireland as referee and Fred Wagner as starter. Special trains will be run from cities in the central west and many automobile tours have been arranged. The roads from the heart of Chicago to the park are in excellent shape and the approach to the track is a stretch of cement that will warm the heart of the tourist. Chicago will be able to take care of all who attend the Republican convention and the Auto Derby as the Speedway Park Association has made it a point to see that no one is disappointed in the matter of accommodations. A bureau of information has been established in the general offices in the Marquette building so that those wiring for tickets can arrange for rooms at the same time.

Sunday in an attempt to make better than two miles a minute Barney Oldfield resurrected his Christy and set a new American 2 mile record by doing the tannarak course at the rate of 113 miles an hour. On his second mile in the first trial he made a mile in a fraction better than a half a minute. He had trouble getting the big machine started but still insists that he can do better than 120 miles an hour for the world's lap record on a speedway. Thousands have watched the speed trials this week.

The Chicago Speedway is an ideal place at which to stage the greatest speed event for it is conceded to be the fastest track in the world. The stands are large and more than 140,000 persons can be seated along the two straightaways and thousands of others can be taken care of in the infield, where for those who have no motors, circus seats will be erected if necessary. Two hundred and twenty-five thousands persons can be accommodated comfortably.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Howells, son and daughter, are to leave Friday for California. They will go direct to Los Angeles and Mr. Howells will return in the course of a month. Mrs. Howells and son and daughter will remain for the entire summer.

PROBATE COURT

Before Judge W. E. Thomson the petition of Grant Graff, sheriff and collector of taxes, for judgment against certain lands sold for taxes was dismissed on motion of State Attorney William N. Hargrove. Objections were made on the ground that the publication as to the sale of property for taxes was defective. It was pointed out that the figures 1910 appeared where 1915 should have been given, and that at the top of the column the dollar sign was omitted. The court held that these errors made the whole publication defective. The only effect of the order will be to cause the re-publication of the tax list, and consequently a delay of about thirty days.
